All-Big 12 Honors Notebook:

- Kyler Murray garnered Oklahoma's fourth consecutive and eighth overall Offensive Player of the Year award. Other OU winners include wide receiver Dede Westbrook (2016) and quarterbacks Mayfield (2015 and 2017), Sam Bradford (2008), Jason White (2003 and 2004) and Josh Heupel (2000).
- David Long Jr. is the first West Virginia student-athlete to be named Defensive Player of the Year.
- Jalen Hurd is the second Baylor player to be selected Offensive Newcomer of the year, joining RB Lache Seastrunk in 2012.
- Greg Eishworth is the fifth Iowa State player named as Defensive Newcomer of the Year with the last being DL Demond Tucker in 2015.
- Pooka Williams Jr. is the first Kansas rookie to win Offensive Freshman of the Year.
- Caden Sterns is the seventh Longhorn to pick up Defensive Freshman of the Year. The last Texas winner was LB Malik Jefferson in 2015.
- Austin Seibert is the first Oklahoma player voted as Special Teams Player of the Year.
- This is the first season that the Offensive Lineman of the Year award was shared and the first time that more than two players earned a share of any individual award. Oklahoma has claimed the honor three-consecutive years while K-State picked up its second and West Virginia its first.
- Charles Omenihu was named Defensive Lineman of the Year joining previous Texas selections Poona Ford (2017) and Brian Orakpo (2008).
- Matt Campbell was recognized as Chuck Neinas Coach of the Year for the second straight season while Lincoln Riley claimed his first honor.
- Oklahoma has won the most individual awards in the 22-year history of the Big 12 with 43. K-State is second (33), followed by Texas (31), Oklahoma State (19), Baylor (15), Iowa State (14), Kansas (8), TCU (8), Texas Tech (8) and West Virginia (6).
